4. Various aspects, both operational and engineering, were discussed and a final determination of desirable characteristics were decided upon. These characteristics are contained in the attachment and will be presented to the Air Force at the next Steering Committee meeting on 27 July 1955 to ascertain if the Air Force has a use for the revised specification. If so, we will once again shoulder the load with the Air Force.

5. The desired characteristics will also be presented to the Contractor for his comment and/or acceptance.
